Kaitlin Olson has 'High Potential' in ABC series

By Jay Bobbin

TV Media

aitlin Olson is ready to be sunny, as well as sleuthy, somewhere else.

The longtime co-star of the FXX sitcom "It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia" has done extra duty before in her own series — Fox's "The Mick" — and she's now doing it again. ABC's seriocomic "High Potential" premieres Tuesday, Sept.

17, casting Olson as crimescene cleaner Morgan, a single mother who solves cases in her own unconventional manner.

To her surprise, police officials believe they can benefit from her skills and partner her with Karadec, a veteran detective played by "Rescue Me" alum Daniel Sunjata. Adapted from the French series "HPI — Haut Potentiel Intellectuel," the show also features Judy Reyes ("Scrubs") as the duo's boss, Selena, and Taran Killam ("Saturday Night Live") as Morgan's ex, Ludo.

Fans of "It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia" (created by fellow star Rob McElhenney, who is Olson's husband) can rest assured of Olson's continuing presence in that show. It films near the "High Potential" set, and she has reserved several days to work exclusively on it when it resumes production for its 17th season. Asked if she'll ever separate fully from "Sunny," she leaves no doubt of her feeling: "No, no, no, no, no, l'Il never do that."

Food Network celebrates the season with 'Halloween Baking Championship'

By Caroline Collacutt

TV Media

qual parts sweet and scary, the fan-favorite series "Halloween Baking Championship" returns Monday, Sept. 16, on Food Network.

Packed with ghouls, goblins and goodies, this autumnal series has now reached its landmark 10th season, showcasing more creativity, talent and Halloween cheer than ever before. To mark the milestone, 10 bakers will take part in this year's competition, coming from across the country to create awe-inspiring desserts inspired by the creepy and the kooky, mysterious and spooky.

This year, host John Henson ("Wipeout") welcomes the willing "test subjects" to a haunted science lab-themed kitchen — known as Henson Laboratories — during an epic premiere, in which the pastry makers battle it out over two rounds of baking in order to earn themselves a chance at immunity.

Kick off the holiday season with the premiere of "Halloween Baking Championship," airing Monday, Sept. 16, on Food Network.
