An unexpected galactic journey begins in 'Star Wars: Skeleton Crew'

By Sarah Passingham

TV Media

ne kid with a big imagination sends himself and his friends on an unbelievable adventure across the galaxy in the new series "Star Wars: Skeleton Crew," premiering Tuesday, Dec. 3, on Disney+.

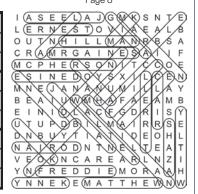

Set in the New Republic era, this family fantasy series stars Ravi CabotConyers ("Encanto," 2021) as Wim, a young student on a peaceful planet whose head is firmly planted among the stars. His desire for adventure sends him and his friends KB (Kyriana Kratter, "Bunk'd"), Neel (Robert Timothy Smith, "Mythic Quest") and Fern (Ryan Kiera Armstrong, "Anne With an E") blasting through space.

Deep in a forest, the four friends discover what appears to be an abandoned Jedi temple. Quick to explore it, one wrong step sends them catapulting across the galaxy. Lost in space and trying to find their way home, the crew teams up with a mysterious, possible Jedi, Jod Na Nawood (portrayed by Jude Law, "The New Pope"). Across the eight-episode series, says Disney, "finding their way home — and meeting unlikely allies and enemies — will be a greater adventure than they ever imagined."

Festive fakers

'Is It Cake?' takes on the holidays with series all-stars

By Caroline Collacutt

rom Thanksgiving turkeys to cookies left for Santa, so much of the holiday season is already edible ... but not everything can be cake. At least, not until now. Serving up a big slice of festive cheer, the firstever season of "Is It Cake? Holiday" is now available to stream on Netflix.

With "Saturday Night Live" cast member Mikey Day returning as the host of this hyper-realistic baking competition, "Is It Cake? Holiday" opens its doors to nine returning all-star bakers from past seasons of "Is It Cake?," inviting them to take part in a festive frenzy full of sugar, spice and everything nice — so long as they stay off the naughty list.

According to the streamer, this "truly tinseled-out showdown" follows the show's usual format, as "bakers will be creating cakes shaped into realistic replicas of common objects, and celebrity judges will be guessing which of them are fondant-covered fake-outs."

The twist, however, is that each and every cake will be made to emulate "festive winter items, such as ice skates, wreaths, nutcrackers and more."
