Across 'The Gorge'

Taylor-Joy, Teller co-star in action thriller this Valentine's Day

By Dana Simpson

TV Media

t's been almost exactly a decade since Anya Taylor-Joy made her captivating debut in Robert Eggers' "The Witch" at Sundance Film Festival in January 2015, but what a decade it has been. From "Split" (2016), to Netflix's "The Queen's Gambit," to iconic franchises such as Dune, Mad Max and even Super Mario Bros.,

Taylor-Joy's repertoire averages out at a little more than three on-screen projects per year. Now with the beginning of a new decade, the mesmerizing Argentina-born, U.K.-based actress starts off strong with an Apple TV+ film fresh out of the gate.

"The Gorge," a dark, actionpacked thriller from "Doctor Strange" (2016) director Scott Derrickson, premieres globally Friday, Feb. 14, on Apple TV+.

In "The Gorge," Taylor-Joy stars as Drasa, a "highly trained operative" who has been assigned to guard the East Tower overlooking a mysterious, misty gorge in a remote location outside the contact of regular society. Luckily for Drasa (and Taylor-Joy herself), she has a companion — even if she isn't supposed to engage with him.

Don't miss the Friday, Feb. 14, premiere of "The Gorge" when it makes its home on Apple TV+.

'Next Level' ladies

Will 'Next Level Chef' Season 4 see its fourth female victor?

By Caroline Collacutt

TV Media

nown as the host and executive producer of "Hell's Kitchen," "MasterChef," "MasterChef Junior" and "Gordon Ramsay's Food Stars," renowned chef Gordon Ramsay dominates the TV culinary scene with "Food on Fox"—and his reign doesn't end there, as "Next Level Chef" returns Thursday, Feb. 13, for its fourth season on the network.

After searching America from coast to coast, Ramsay has gathered talented chefs from a variety of backgrounds — from home cooks to line cooks to social media stars and everything in between — planning to put the bunch through a culinary gauntlet unlike any other as he searches for the world's next superstar chef.

Split into three teams, the contestants will be assigned a mentor: either Ramsay, chef Nyesha Arrington ("The Taste") or "Top Chef All-Stars" winner Richard Blais. Each week, these teams will battle it out for the top spot in the game, doing so literally as they are divided into three kitchens stacked on top of each other.

Produced by Studio Ramsay Global and Fox Alternative Entertainment, Season 4 of "Next Level Chef" serves up its first episode Thursday, Feb. 13, on Fox.
