The dog spent most of its life stuffed with other helpless animals in crates on a property littered with fleas, feces, empty water, rats, and empty food and water bowls, along with the skeletal remains of other animals who couldn't survive the horrific conditions.

dogs, 72 chickens, 28 pigs, six goats, two turtles, six pigeons, two quail and a duck and a goose – up for adoption last weekend. Since then, some dogs delivered litters. Residents were required to apply for an appointment time in advance of the event and the order was set randomly after each applicant was vetted.

"[Counting puppies] we had about 310 animals and we adopted all but 17 out so far, so it was a very successful event,"

McRae Elementary receives state’s excellence distinction

By Nick Blank
nick@claytodayonline.com

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS — The Exceeding Excellence Award is tough to achieve, requiring Title I schools to surpass every state testing standard, but McRae Elementary is one of 26 state schools to earn the honor.

Seminole County-based East Coast Technical Assistance Center offers support to 47 school districts including Clay. The organization identifies high-performing Title 1 schools and visits to interview staff and observe classrooms.

Program Director Marjorie Murray said this is McRae elementary’s eighth year in the Exceeding Expectations program. She said McRae elementary was compared to all 1,895 schools in the state and the award couldn’t have happened without a strong district, administration, and teachers to ensure success.

“[The school has] standards-based data driven instruction, laser-focused intervention, visible, supportive and actively engaged school leadership who never forget adults and children need to have a little fun

Teachers, administration and staff at McRae Elementary were honored to be one of 26 schools in Florida to earn the Exceeding Excellence Award after improving from an overall C grade to an A last year.

in school,” Murray said. McRae teachers and staff were honored by the district two weeks ago at a board meeting. Clay County School District Federal Programs Supervisor Ryan Widdowson said the East Coast Technical Assistance Center usually has an Orlando conference to spotlight award winners.

“Because of COVID they were unable to do that,” Widdowson said. “It’s been an ongoing question: when do we get to celebrate McRae? Any time we can put a spotlight on hard work that’s being done, that’s such a great experience for them.”

Widdowson called the award rare and said McRae Principal Tammy Winkler and her team have created a student-centric environment with an emphasis on data.

“Every layer of a school steps up,” Widdowson added. “It’s an improved education for kids.”

District board member Tina Bullock, whose district includes McRae, said the timing of the award is fitting because it’s McRae’s 25th anniversary. She said recognition coincides with the school’s improvement from a ‘C’ to an ‘A’ grade from 2017 to 2019, according to state data.

“They really work hard. Whenever you make a school a family atmosphere it’s great,” Bullock said. “That’s what McRae has done.”

Bullock said McRae involves volunteers and their families in the school’s day-to-day operations. Now the school can be used as an example, she said. “To get this award when you’re in an outlying rural area is a real feather in your cap,” Bullock said. “You really have to work hard.”

Rescued pigs still need homes

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – While most of the 266 animals - plus puppies born in the past month -- that were rescued from a home in Orange Park have been adopted, there still are 14 mixed-breed pigs that still need to find a new home. The pigs currently are at the Clay County Fairgrounds and are available at no cost - and there’s no limit to the number you can take home. For more information, visit the Clay County Emergency Management’s page at claycountygov.com. For more on the adoption event, see story on Page 1.

Florida legislators want to develop an OSHA plan to bypass vaccine mandates

By Renzo Downey
For FloridaPolitics.com

Legislation asking the Governor to develop a state workplace safety plan is nearing a vote in both the House and Senate.

The measure would give the Governor's Office until Jan. 17 to develop a plan for Florida to seek federal approval for a state counterpart to the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration. Leaders in Florida's Republican-led Legislature have framed the measure as a way to bypass vaccine mandates from a "weaponized" federal agency, although state occupational safety agencies must be at least as strict as OSHA.

Despite Democrats' attempts to amend the bill, sponsored by Land O'Lakes Republican Rep. Ardian Zika, with "guardrails" to satisfy their concerns that the bill is not just a political stunt, the House prepared the bill for a vote without making changes to the original language. The vote is expected Wednesday morning.

"We are being faced, as a state, with a federal overreach of mandating on Florida's families a looming deadline. They can lose their job," Zika said. "It's in [the] interest of our state that we explore the creation of state OSHA for the state."

Senators on the Appropriations Committee on Tuesday approved a companion bill along nearly party lines, preparing it for the full Senate's consideration. The measures include a $1 million fund for the Governor's Office to develop the plan, including to hire consultants if necessary.

St. Augustine Republican Sen. Travis Hutson, the bill's sponsor, told the panel Florida's OSHA requirements could be as strict as federal workplace requirements. However, it would allow the state to expand rules for industries such as tourism and construction.

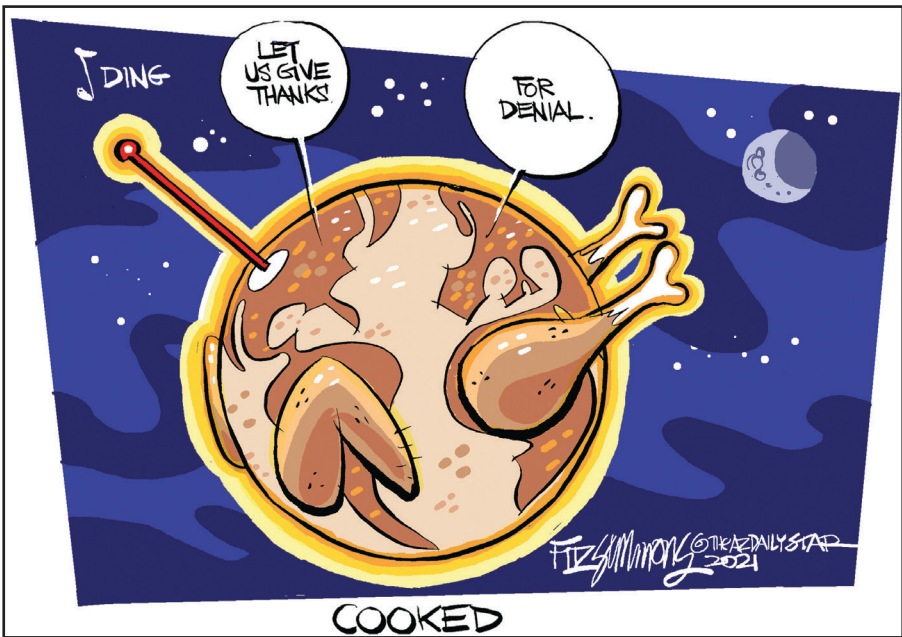

"We've got a lot more flexibility, local control, in the regulatory side of things, should we take over that," Hutson said.

Democrats were unified in their opposition to the bill. West Palm Beach Democratic Sen. Bobby Powell said the measure "looks like big government" and does what the federal government already does.

And one Republican, St. Petersburg Sen. Jeff Brandes, broke with his party, telling the committee the $1 million appropriation was unnecessary given the existing research funds. Additionally, he said the business community has been largely silent as lawmakers discuss the proposal.

However, the federal vaccine requirements remained a sticking point for him.

Simple questions and confusion from a simple mind

By Don Coble

I've said it many times before, and I'll say it again: I'm a simple person.

And while I don't duck every time I drive by a "Low Flying Planes" sign at the airport, I confess I have neither the interest nor the attention span to waste time on non-sense.

I've never watched an episode of "Games of Thrones;" I put my hat over my heart every time they play the National Anthem; and, I don't get social justice advice from LeBron James on Twitter.

But that's not all I don't understand, like:

- Why People magazine bypassed me – again – and went with Paul Rudd as the Sexiest Man Alive." Maybe they don't realize I'm still alive.
- Why are the trials and tribulations of Odell Beckham are so important to our social consciousness? He didn't like playing for the New York Giants, which reported called him a "pain in the [backside], so they traded him to Cleveland. In less than three seasons, the Browns cut their losses by placing him on waivers after he complained quarterback Baker Mayfield didn't throw him the ball enough. The team eventually released him after deciding the All-Pro receiver wasn't worth the trouble, prompting James to send out tweets "WR1#FreeOBJ." Despite his baggage, he was signed last week by the Los Angeles Rams, where he responded

- Ben Simmons demanded to be traded during the offseason by the Philadelphia 76ers. The team didn't trade him and now he said he's suffering from mental health issues and won't play until he feels better. Wonder if a trade would improve his emotional outlook.
- Joe Montana won four Super Bowls, was the Super Bowl MVP three times and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2000. Now he's a pitchman for one of the annoying Medicare Supplement Plans, which makes me wonder if he really needs a free ride to his doctor appointments?

Vaccine

“There’s not really a need for the bill other than to kind of make a point,” Brandes said. “But I think the highlight here is that even if we did this, the state would be exempt from the vaccine mandates, which is exactly the reason that we’re here.”

While the vaccine mandate, which was set to begin in January but is currently paused in federal court, was the impetus for the bill, lawmakers acknowledge it would likely take years to implement a state plan. The shortest it has taken a state is about two years, noted Florida AFL-CIO lobbyist Rich Templin. However, the average is more like three years.

House Speaker Chris Sprowls earlier Monday called the measure a “plan for the future.” However, he noted he believes the OSHA vaccine rules, which also include an opt-out if employees undergo weekly testing, won’t stand up in federal court.

Senate President Wilton Simpson on Monday told reporters the OSHA approval process depends on who gets elected in 2024, noting the plan must go through the federal government. But as far as the federal government’s decision to impose what he called an unconstitutional mandate, the Senate President asked what comes next.

“What we do not want to do is set up an opportunity for future presidents to weaponize cabinets that will come in and do unconstitutional things, even if it’s only for a short period of time,” Simpson said.

The House Pandemics & Public Emergencies Committee on Monday approved the bill nearly along party lines, with one Democrat joining Republicans on the 13-5 vote, signaling there is limited bipartisan support for it.

While it was Gov. Ron DeSantis who began the call for a Special Session addressing vaccines and pandemics, Simpson and Sprowls were the first to raise the concept of removing Florida from OSHA. DeSantis gave a tepid endorsement of the OSHA measure when a reporter in Naples asked about it Tuesday.

He noted Florida’s decision to leave OSHA, should it happen, would not be unprecedented. However, he stressed that leaving OSHA is corollary to what he sees as the larger point of the Special Session, which is making sure people don’t lose their jobs because of failure to comply with both federal and corporate vaccine mandates.

“I think it’s an appropriate response, given how heavy handed OSHA is being,” DeSantis said.

Twenty-two states have an OSHA approved state program while five states have programs that apply only to public-sector employees.

Getting a state plan approved is not something that would happen overnight. There is a process that requires federal authorities to examine state efforts and ensure standards for worker protections are as effective as federal regulations.

To gain initial approval, states must assure OSHA they will have enough staff and regulations in place within three years. Once a state gains approval, it is eligible for federal funding to help pay for the program. Once OSHA gives its final approval, it relinquishes authority.

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – Nitro Rallycross, the brainchild of action sports star Travis Pastrana, will bring its high-flying, high-speed thrill ride to the Florida International Rally and Motorsports Park at the Keystone Heights Airport on Dec. 4-5.

The popular racing series is a mixture of cars, motocross and adrenaline. Portions of The FIRM’s road course, skidpad and the off-road course will be transformed into a trail that features dirt, pavement and jumps for the season-finale.

Although races will be televised live on the Peacock network, local and racing officials said nothing compares to the smells, sights and sounds of 600-horsepower supercars running side-by-side.

“It is so awesome to see the momentum building for Nitro Rallycross,” said Pastrana, global motorsports icon and the driving force behind this racing revolution. “The reaction from teams has been fantastic. We’ve already confirmed more supercar entrants than ever before in an NRX event. Building four all new, unique and crazy tracks for this year to go along with Utah Motorsports Campus is something all of us have been working toward for years. It’s going to be round after round of new challenges and excitement.”

Some of the world’s top Rallycross drivers, including Travis Pastrana and Scott Speed will converge to The Florida International Rallycross and Motorsports Park for the season-finale race of the Nitro Rallycross season on Dec. 4-5.

10 Thanks-Giving Messages to practice, contemplate, share

By Jack Levine
4 Generations Institute

As we enter the holiday season, let's realize that there are neighbors, young and elder, whose weeks ahead are not brimming with joy. For whatever reason, in whatever circumstance, we know that people in need can be helped if we choose to do so. As the Talmud asks of us ... "If not you, who? If not now, when?"

In honor and remembrance of a family member who was there for you when you needed them most, please thank and support those who illuminate our paths, exemplify kindness, teach justice, attend to our health needs and nurture our futures. What a fitting tribute to the legacy of our ancestors.

Jack Levine

As we prepare to celebrate Thanksgiving, let's remember that the holiday's name is a compound word - Thanks and Giving.

Each of us has much to be thankful for - our lives, families, friendships, and work that fulfills us. While there is no perfection in life, let's admit that the glass is more than half full for most of us most of the time. Thanking those who we love, admire, depend upon, and have work relationships with is important, but not expressed as often as we could.

Here are 10 Thanks-Giving Thoughts - My gifts from the heart for you to contemplate, practice and share...

1. Let's share our bounty with those with less - Gifts of Gratitude -Consider the gift of one week's grocery bill donated to a community food bank, domestic violence or homeless shelter, an infant or child health charity, foster parent association, hospice, veteran's support agency, your United Way or emergency relief fund as a token of appreciation for what we have, and what others do for the less fortunate.

2. Express our heartfelt appreciation to those who care for others as a profession or as volunteers. Compliment the good works of caregivers for our children and frail elders...those who are dedicated to babies and toddlers or assist people with mobility-restrictions, and help nurture and stimulate their minds.

3. Respect our community leaders for their service. While we believe in representative government, who among us is brave enough to run for public office? We don't have to agree with all of their policies, but we should respect their service, and hold them accountable for their actions...or lack of action. Silence is the antithesis of effectiveness.

4. Give time to a worthy cause. Volunteerism is time and talent philanthropy! Our investments for the benefit of others builds community and creates a great example for our children. Spectatorism is relaxing, but our community's needs can be addressed, in part, by sharing our energy. Whether we choose to sing in a chorus, read to a toddler, mentor a youth, or visit a lonely elder, our time is a priceless gift which appreciates in value.

5. Conserve resources by consuming less fuel, reusing, and recycling. Native American culture considers our planet as a parent, worthy of respect and protection. Our throw-away lifestyle is feeding our landfills with trash, and our air and water absorb the residue of fuel-generated pollutants. Preserving our environment is self-preservation, as well as a life-saving gift to wildlife, plantlife, and our children's children.

6. Slow down. Whether behind the steering wheel or in conversation with others, speed is not a good thing. Being in a perpetual hurry endangers our lives on the road, and cuts short our relationships with others. Give yourself a few extra minutes in transit to be a safe driver...and listen a bit longer to the words in conversation with loved ones and co-workers. Actively listen and show others that positive attention is a gift worth giving.

7. Put technology in its place. We live in a high-tech, low-touch culture, governed by the beeps, buzzes, and blinking lights of technology. As time is

Oakleaf grad wins national competition with fishing line, bait recycling project

By Nick Blank

nick@claytodayonline.com

OAKLEAF – An Oakleaf High graduate received national recognition for designing a machine that would recycle fishing lines and bait.

Abigail Askew won the BoatUS Foundation and Berkley Recast and Recycle Contest, which aimed to find a way to recycle fishing lines and soft bait. Her “Berkley Recycling Machine” took home first place and $15,000. She’s also a 2021 graduate of the Savannah College of Art and Design industrial design program.

Abigail Askew

“As a passionate angler, it was an honor to receive this reward and to be recognized within the fishing industry,” Askew said. “I was also excited to learn that this contest was judged by two major bass fishing icons, Hank Parker and Mark Zona.”

She first created a survey for 84 anglers and conducted a series of interviews to help her understand how the bait molding processes worked. Askew found most anglers didn’t have easy access to recycle products, but they wanted to. She interviewed Dennis Montgomery, president and founder of D & J Plastics, an expert when it comes to the injection molding of soft plastic baits.

“The information I received from the survey and interviews provided the complete direction for my project,” Askew said.

Early in the process, Askew had her design model in mind: a service counter that customers could use to remold bait and collect their line for credit with the help of an associate. However, a classmate shared a childhood memory of the classic Mold-A-Rama, a vending machine that molded items into figurines.

“I came to the realization that this service could be provided by a machine instead of a paid associate,” Askew said.

throw away reusable items at retailers and or launch sites. She felt the idea could catch on as a novelty. The contest entry was also her SCAD senior year capstone project and she said her coursework went a long way to designing the Berkley Recycling Machine.

“My firsthand experience using these products allowed me to tailor my survey questions and interviews to the target audience,” Askew said. “Without my industrial design education at SCAD, I would not have known where to begin with visualizing this concept. I used the combination of Solidworks, Keyshot, and Photoshop Rendering to create my visuals.”

Askew added that many of her industrial design projects at SCAD have environmental-friendly aspects and she wants to continue supporting sustainability through her work.

“Anytime there is the opportunity to incorporate a product that is reusable, I will include it in my projects,” Askew said. “My education and experience have prepared me to continue to be an advocate and push for sustainability and conservation, especially in the fishing industry.”

Officer Maj. Phillip Irish said. The red kettles signify the holidays as a time to provide to help those less fortunate.

“It’s like being able to participate in a Norman Rockwell painting. It’s like stepping into history when you pay it forward, literally,” he said.

Now, the Salvation Army is bracing for a busy holiday season and seeking seasonal workers and volunteers.

The Salvation Army has never needed our help more in making sure every Angel Tree request is filled and every Red Kettle is manned during the holidays.

Phillip Irish said the organization is down 20 workers of what it needs for bell ringers. He said staff was calling people on Salvation Army lists, though for some people, it’s difficult to come back.

“We are helping people who need a little extra,” he said. “We are asking ourselves, are we going to be able to field fundraising and activities the way we usually do?”

He said the Salvation Army had challenges in 2020, but pulled through.

“There was an abundance of compassion and generosity in the community last year,” Phillip Irish said. “We were worried we weren’t going to meet our goals, but we did. It’s an interesting creature this year.”

The Salvation Army’s first day out this year is Nov. 19 at a few locations. Black Friday is when the organization does a full-court press, he said, and called the reality of the staffing shortages stark. He likened missing a worker in front of a busy store during the holidays to a thunderstorm preventing any money from being collected.

“We have basically four weeks to raise money for the whole year or not. We don’t get a chance to do it later,” Phillip Irish said. “If we only have half the people we need, it’s likely we’ll get half the funds we need.”

Maj. Lynn Irish, also a Clay County Corp Officer, said there are 371 children set to receive presents from the organization’s Angel Tree program.

A sponsor that adopts an “Angel” receives an Angel Tree tag that includes a child’s age and gift wish. The toys purchased are returned to the Salvation Army and later given to the parents prior to Christmas. The deadline to send the Salvation Army is gifts is Dec. 6, a week before the Dec. 13 distribution day for presents.

“For many of the kids here in Clay County, if it wasn’t for Angel Tree, they wouldn’t get anything for Christmas,” she said. “There’s excitement because of Angel Tree from the kids. We have generous people in the community.”

Black Creek Project projected to start this summer for Lake Brooklyn

Help is coming soon for the residents who've wanted to see Lakes Brooklyn and Geneva water levels increased to their previous levels.

By Nick Blank
nick@claytodayonline.com

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – The Black Creek Water Resource Development Project is expected to dramatically change Keystone Heights in the coming years and local leaders now have an updated timeline of the process.

The project spearheaded by the St. Johns River Water Management District would divert about 10 million gallons of water from Black Creek to Lake Brooklyn. It is estimated to cost $60-80 million and $1.2 million a year for upkeep, though more than $40 million has been secured through state appropriations. The district has also added $5 million to the funds.

Save Our Lakes Organization President Vivian Katz-James told the Clay County Board of County Commissioners last week the district expected permits for the project by the end of the year or January. She said the district should start to approve contracts in the spring of 2022 with shovels hitting the ground by the summer. Construction could take 18 months.

"Within the next year, we're going to have shovels in the ground and Black Creek is going to be moving," Katz-James said. "Water will start flowing and Brooklyn will start reacting very quickly."

The county and the City of Keystone Heights have set aside money for lake projects, about $250,000 combined.

"That is a drop in the bucket, but what it says to the water district is, you got skin in the game," Katz-James said.

The next step is cleaning out Alligator Creek, which is where the water will be diverted to before reaching Lake Brooklyn, to improve the flow from Black Creek.

Keystone Heights Mayor Karen Lake said residents are eager for the project and it's easy for people to start asking, "Are we there yet?" She said it's hard to overstate what the impact on raising water levels will do for ecotourism, property values and improving quality of life.

"I really feel we're getting there," Lake said. "I think it's going to do a tremendous amount for the Keystone community."

Calling the project ambitious and collaborative, Lake said many residents remember water skiing through the city's many lakes.

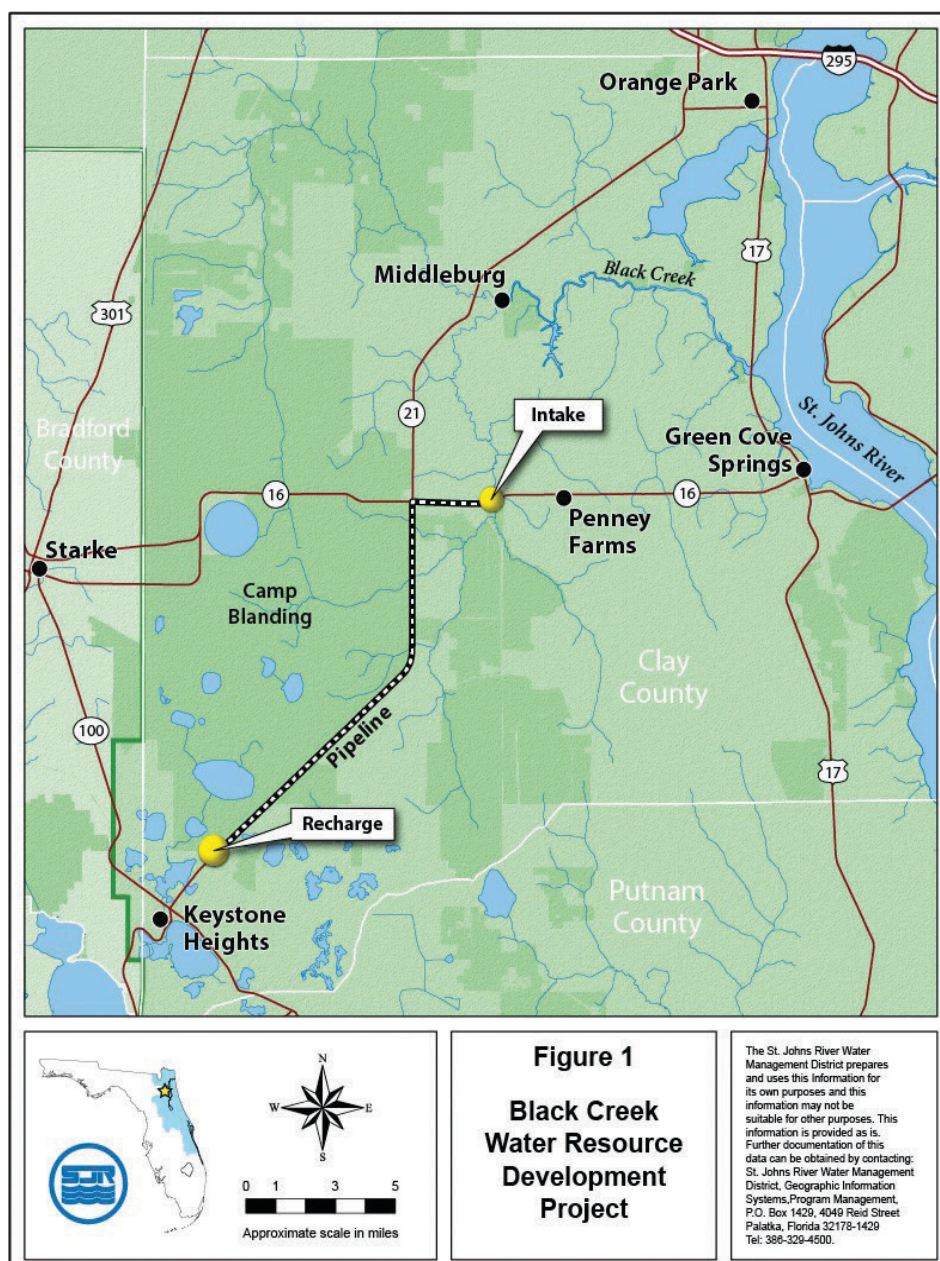

"Those are memories and experiences I hope future residents will experience," Lake added.

The county, city and the district will have future meetings about the potential for cost-share projects. County Commissioner Betsy Condon said Keystone can mimic Indian Lagoon's One Lagoon project, which outlined controlled growth following the restoration of the lagoon.

"You have to reinvent yourself or they will reinvent you," Condon said. "We'd like to have community input on where Keystone Heights goes."

The project will feel closer to reality when shovels hit the ground, Condon said, and cleanup is the next important step. Condon recalled Keystone Heights as a destination spot from Jacksonville and Gainesville residents because of its lakes. That day may come again, she said.

"I think it will completely change Keystone," Condon said.

Work on the long-awaited Black Creek Water Resource Development Project that will funnel water from the Black Creek to lakes in Keystone Heights could start as early as this summer.

County officials recognize the Hillcrest Community

For Clay Today

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – District 4 Commissioner Betsy Condon and County Manager Howard Wanamaker led a sign unveiling ceremony on Tuesday, Nov. 17, for the community of Hillcrest, southeast of Keystone Heights.

When State Road 100 was repaved by the Florida DOT, the road signs were removed and never replaced. Long-time residents were looking forward to the day when the signs would return and were very pleased with all the work that went into getting permission to install them back in the FDOT right-of-way, ensuring a formal recognition of their small community and their place in history.

County Engineer Richard Smith worked with Lead Sign Maker Billy Gould, resident Sheryl Allen, and School-board Member Tina Bullock to provide the state with historical records proving Hillcrest was a small community dating back to the 1920s.

The FDOT approved the installation and the new road signs are located on State Road 100, just south of County Road 214, and to the east, just before County Line Road. Now, everyone that travels southeast on S.R. 100 from Keystone Heights will know they are traveling through Hillcrest.

Early Learning Coalition of North Florida joined Read for the Record to provide children with books

For Clay Today

CLAY TODAY – Read for the Record, presented in partnership with the Pearson Foundation, is the annual event when millions of individuals come together to celebrate literacy by breaking the world record of reading the same book on the same day.

Last month, 6,235 adults and children across the United States, including Clay County, read the official campaign book, “Amy Wu and the Patchwork Dragon” by Kat Zhang. In this sweet and brightly illustrated picture book, Amy Wu must craft a dragon unlike any other to share with her class at school in this unforgettable follow-up to “Amy Wu and the Perfect Bao”.

Ninety-two childcare providers and schools participated, including the three school districts Putnam, Clay, and St. Johns County in Florida. The ELC of North Florida provided every child care provider in Clay, Nassau, Baker, Bradford, Putnam and St. Johns with a free copy of “Amy Wu and the Patchwork Dragon”, along with a packet of activities to do along with the book. The packet included a template that could be used to copy Read for the Record participation certificates to give each child.

The Early Learning Coalition is the leading voice in six counties for child care. ELC works with many other local agencies to ensure that all families have access to quality, affordable child care. Their mission is achieved by leading projects that increase the quality and availability of child care professionals and advocate child care policies that positively impact the lives of children and families. is compressed, stress grows. Immediate response raises expectations, reduces careful consideration, and makes us more prone to error. Our children need to know that our eye contact and voices are focused on their needs, too. Cell phones and e-mail should not keep our loved ones on hold.

8. Advocate with assertion, not aggression. Free speech is not an invitation to be offensive. Responsible advocacy requires thoughtful strategy, practical solutions, and effective conversation. Advocacy is the heart-felt expression of a wrong to be righted, with composure and grace. An advocate's power is in persuasive and persistent articulation, and the recruitment of others to the cause.

9. Health is a form of wealth. Making sure we eat right, exercise, and taking time to rest and relax are the keys to clear thinking and long-term effectiveness. Our bodies cannot support us unless our minds resolve to take care and be careful. During the COVID-19 pandemic, preventive health measures are especially essential.

10. Take optimism pills every morning... the time-release kind. Positive attitudes and negativity are both contagious. Those who believe they will make a difference can achieve their goals. Pessimism is the mind's way of giving up before the first step is taken. We who strive to make change for the better in our lives, neighborhoods, and the world around us should stop whining and start winning. The power of one, multiplied and magnified, is the only correct formula for progress. Holidays remind us that bridges across the generations are built upon the stanchions of memory. We who recall the glow of candlelight reflecting the faces at our grandparents' table understand how vital heritage is for appreciating who came before us and who we are. What a fitting tribute to the legacy of our ancestors.

Tasty tips

The perfect recipe for holiday meals includes simplicity, fun, planning

By Kathleen Chambless
For Clay Today

CLAY COUNTY – As the resident chef in my family, it's often my responsibility to cook for holidays. Beyond that, I often cater for small-scale events for family, friends and members of our church.

With a bachelor's degree in Culinary Arts, "What do you do for the holidays?" is one of the first questions I get from new acquaintances. As the holidays draw closer, here are four tips and tricks that I have for surviving the dinner party season with as little stress as possible.

No. 1, keep it simple. This isn't the time to try brand new recipes or a six-course meal if you haven't done it before. Thanksgiving especially can be a lot of stress on smaller families who are trying to accomplish a Hallmark level feast.

Sticking with tried-and-true recipes you know your family enjoys will make the day easier in the long run. Mashed potatoes, your family's preferred vegetables, pre-made rolls, and a home-roasted turkey breast can be much easier to accomplish than a whole turkey and the rest of the usual sides. Bonus: if you're trying to avoid the dreaded leftover rut, a pot pie is fantastic for your Thanksgiving turkey and vegetables.

No. 2, keep in mind the timing of your foods. Usually, roasted proteins take longer than sides. Turkey is the kind of entrée you can set and forget the morning of and, depending on what you're making as sides, you only need about two hours. The longer you keep vegetables in the heat, the more nutrients they lose, and to keep everything hot, it's best to cook green vegetables just before serving to avoid having to keep hot pots on the stove the whole morning.

Third, don't stress too much about perfection. As a recipe developer, perfect is unachievable without Photoshop. It's easy to lose yourself trying to match the picture on your recipe. It's unlikely you're going to get that glistening skin on your turkey and perfectly green vegetables after cooking and keeping your foods in a hot kitchen. Instead, focus on the flavors and the technique you're using. A baked turkey and roasted potatoes are going to look beautifully golden no matter what, but seasoning will always be more important than presentation in the end.

Finally, food is made with love, so don't stress too much. You want to have fun with it as best as you can before you sit down to enjoy the meal with loved ones and friends.

Put on your favorite music in the kitchen. It's a favorite trick of mine to keep up my energy during long hours in the kitchen. Bring in a friend to act as your sous chef. Take a sip of the wine you're using to make your sauces. Taste everything as you go!

There's no better way to get excited about a meal than to enjoy making every part.

K9s for Warriors get tasty support from Moosehaven's Chili Cook-Off

ORANGE PARK – Last Saturday was a perfect day for chili – as if there's ever a bad day for chili – at the 11th Annual Chili Cook-Off at Moosehaven. This year's celebration supported K9s for Warriors and featured free tastings of several competitors, live entertainment from Lyndie Burris Knowles and the Chris Thomas Bad, a classic car show, kids' zone and food trucks.

Homes

John Ward. "We've got one rooster and two rabbits, and we have people coming in who said they want them. That just leaves us with just 14 pigs."

Ward still is working with residents and other rescue services to find new homes for the pigs. He believes they will be placed in the next few days.

Little dogs clearly were the favorite finds in the two-day event. Larger dogs, goats and 71 chickens and other birds were gone by Sunday night.

Six-year-old Wren Fitzgerald liked the Continental Toy Spaniel because "she's soft and has cute fur." She said volunteers named the dog Gilly, but she wants to change it to Cocoa Belle.

"I registered as soon as I saw the story about the animals in the news," said Awwren Fitzgerald, Wren's mother. "This was the best way to get a new family member. It really hits you when you go in [to the livestock stalls] and see all of the animals.

It's unbelievable."

One couple left with a Shih Tzu. They tried to use a leash to lead the dog to the parking lot, but the dog was so unaccustomed to being out of a cage, it took one step and sat. The man eventually picked the dog up and carried it to the car.

"You have to have patience," said one volunteer. "This is all new to these dogs."

Lee said one of her first stops will be at a groomer, where the dog will get her nails painted pink.

"They didn't give me a name, but I'm calling her Baby Doll," she said. "She's small and she's calm. She and I will match."

Lee's daughter, Donna Gushanas, also was overwhelmed by the magnitude of the rescue.

"When you get halfway through and all the way to the end, it really hits you," she said. "There are so many. It feels good knowing we can take one home. That's going to be one lucky dog."

For any questions about the possibility of adopting a pig, visit the emergency management office's page at claycounty.gov.

Faith Walk

Fanny Crosby

Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine, Oh, what a foretaste of glory divine.

Heir of salvation, purchase of God,
Born of His spirit, washed in His blood.

This is my story, this is my song,
Praising my Savior all the day long.

These are the opening words to the wonderful hymn written by Fanny Crosby. She is credited with writing more than 8,000 hymns in her lifetime.
The words above are from the song titled “Blessed Assurance.” I chose to open this column today with these words because this hymn is one of my all-time favorites.

Fanny Crosby wrote many wonderful hymns. Among them are “Tell Me the Story of Jesus,” “Pass Me Not,” “To God Be the Glory,” “Praise Him, Praise
Him, Jesus Our Blessed Redeemer.”
These songs are among those I dearly love. I could overflow my space today by naming other songs of hers that have greatly blessed my life over the years.

She was born in 1820 and she died in 1915. Obviously, she was talented and gifted. She was also blind! At six weeks of age she had an eye infection which left her blind for the rest of her life.

Fanny could have lived her life in self-pity, but she chose to make a contribution to the world. Oh, my, did she do that!! Sometime when you have an old church hymn, flip through the pages to find some of your favorite songs. Look for the author and you will see many of them have her name on them as the composer of the lyrics.

What a blessing she has been to many thousands of people over the years because she chose to be a positive impact, in spite of the severe handicap of blindness.

You may have many limitations.
Birth, accidents, illness, abuse, mistreatment ... many things can be a handicap. But Fanny Crosby is proof that God can use you in spite of any impediments in your life.

Fanny Crosby decided to be an overcomer... more than a conqueror!
You can choose to be a victim ... or a victor!

Hammer drops on 7 in Clay Hill as neighbors find Hope following pre-dawn drug raid

For Clay Today

CLAY HILL – An early morning drug raid on Nov. 10 at a house on Nolan Road resulted in the arrest of seven people and the confiscation of fentanyl, methamphetamine, cocaine, heroin, marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Deputies with the Clay County Sheriff's Office's SWAT team served the warrant at 1556 Nolan Road as part of its Operation Hammer and Hope initiative after getting numerous complaints from area residents about the number of people going in and out of the home, Sherrif Michelle Cook said.

"This was significant," Cook said. "We've had quite a few complaints about the property. We'll answer anybody who asks for help. If you deal drugs, we will hold you accountable."

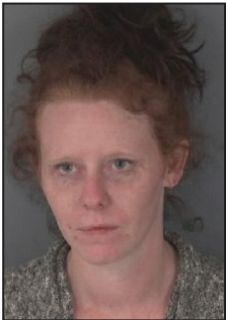

Tricia Ann Henderson, 49, was charged with operating a residence used for trafficking controlled substances and possession of heroin, methamphetamine and fentanyl with intent to sell or distribute.

According to the arrest report, she admitted she allowed one visitor to live at the house for $75 a week so she can buy crack cocaine and she allowed drug sales from the residence. Her bond was set at $36,007.

Jeffrey Parsons, 35, was charged with trafficking in heroin, trafficking in methamphetamine, possession of marijuana, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of drug paraphernalia, possession of heroin with intent to sell, two counts of possession of methamphetamine with intent to sell, possession of heroin and possession of fentanyl with intent to distribute. His bond was set at $757,528.

tion. She also was arrested in 2019 and charged with hiding methamphetamine in her bra in the Clay County Jail. Her bond was set at $21,008.

Donald L. Messer, 34, was charged with possession of methamphetamine. His bond was set at $30,005.

Seth M. Herring, 40, was charged with possession of methamphetamine with intent to sell, manufacture or deliver and possession of drug paraphernalia. His bond was set at $77,505.

Michael J. Cole, 18, was charged with possession of fentanyl and possession of drug paraphernalia. His bond was set at $6,005.

William F. McHale, 56, was charged with resisting, obstructing or opposing law enforcement. As the SWAT team entered the residence, McHale tried to escape by climbing through a window at the back of the house, according to the arrest report. He attempted to flee into a wooded area while ignoring the commands to stop. He eventually was arrested while walking along Brangus Road. His bond was set at $2,502.

Enforcement is only part of the crack-down of drug abuse in the Clay Hill and Middleburg areas, Cook said.

"A big part of Hammer and Hope is the treatment side," she said. "If you want help getting off drugs, we're here to help, too."

There have been more than 500 drug-related arrests and as many as 25 overdose deaths in Clay County this year. The majority of problems are in the Clay Hill and Middleburg areas.

The county's paramedicine program will help addicts and their families with counseling, peer specialists and other treatments to address opioid addictions.

For help or information for addictions, call (904) 284-7703.

Man's bond set at $280K after he's caught with drugs during traffic stop in Orange Park

ORANGE PARK – A quick-thinking Clay County Sheriff's Office deputy stopped a man for an outstanding warrant on Wells Road and wound up making a significant drug arrest.

Christopher Rhein

Christopher Anthony Rhein, 35, of Orange Park, was found with trafficking in cocaine, possession methamphetamine and marijuana with intent to sell, manufacture or deliver, distributing amphetamines or methamphetamines, possession of LSD and Subutex after he was stopped on Nov. 15. A sheriff's deputy saw his car and learned the license tag was registered to Rhein, who was wanted on other drug charges.

The deputy found a glass pipe during the pat-down. He also saw plastic bags with marijuana between the center console and the driver's seat, along with other bags containing cocaine, Subutex and 3.4 grams of methamphetamine.

There also were baggies containing marijuana and 32.8 grams of cocaine in the back seat.

The original warrant was issued on Nov. 2 for violation of probation for possessing 1.5 grams of cocaine and 29.9 grams of marijuana.

Rhein was taken to the Clay County Jail, where he's being held on a $280,017 bond.

Krawlin' for the Fallen kicks up dust, attention for law enforcement

STAFF PHOTOS BY DON COBLE

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – Three days of music, food, motorcycle and 5K runs and off-road driving came to an end Sunday night at the Keystone Heights Airport. The annual Krawlin' for the Fallen attracted thousands – many who left with mud-caked trucks and dirty faces after spending days riding trails and kicking up rooster tails of dust. The festival was presented by Off-Road United to raise awareness and honor the law enforcement officers and their K-9s who died in the line of duty. Nearly 700 Jeeps participated in off-road excursions or the obstacle course. The Clay County Sheriff's Office offered K-9 presentations with drug-sniffing dog Duke as well as its motorcycle unit.

Community Briefs

First Coast YMCA Sock and Blanket Drive underway

CLAY COUNTY – The Johnson YMCA Teen Alumni Board and Leaders Club are asking for donations of new socks and new or “gently used” blankets. All donations will go to those community members in need in the Greater Jacksonville area, including Clay County, on Thanksgiving Day.

Socks and blankets will be collected at area YMCAs, including the Dye Clay Family YMCA, 3322 Moody Ave. in Orange Park and the Barco-Newton Family YMCA at 2075 Town Center Blvd. on Fleming Island, through Nov. 22.

It is part of the Y's mission to strengthen and care for the community. As the weather begins to cool down during the fall and winter months these donations will help to keep those in need warm across the First Coast.

The drive is part of the First Coast Y's “Better Us Challenge”

The challenge also encourages the Northeast Florida community to complete at least 20 minutes of daily activity dedicated to the Spirit, Mind, and Body. Monday-Friday each day is dedicated to a different principle.

Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood sweater drive underway

CLAY COUNTY – WJCT partnered with VyStar Credit Union, Suddath and the Tom Bush Family of Dealerships to present the 19th annual Mister Rogers' Neighborhood Sweater Drive again this year. Through Nov. 30, the groups will be collecting new and gently used sweaters, jackets and blankets. These items will be donated to nonprofit organizations across Duval, Clay, Nassau and St. Johns Counties, and the drop-off locations, including all VyStar Credit Unions and Tom Bush Family of Dealerships

Since its local launch in 2002, the Mister Rogers' Neighborhood Sweater Drive has collected more than a quarter-million articles of clothing and cold-weather necessities for First Coast residents.

Atlanta Rhythm Section, Pat Travers, Curt Towne Band perform to support St. Michael's Soldiers

ORANGE PARK – Three bands came together for the concert of the season, all to benefit St. Michaels Soldiers and veterans in our community.

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the Thrasher-Horne Center hosted the Help Somebody 5 Benefit concert featuring southern rock legends the Atlanta Rhythm Section, the hard rock group the Pat Travers Band and Clay County's own southern rock group, the Curt Towne Band.

The Help Somebody 5 was the fifth the Thrasher Horne and St. Michaels soldiers have brought to the stage, and all proceeds benefit St. Michaels Soldiers, the Home-grown Kindness Project and Thrasher Horne's own work in supporting local artists and musicians in our community.

The concert opened with the Curt Towne Band, which was formed in the Westside of Jacksonville in 2013, right in the center of St. Michaels operations. They performed songs from their EP “Whatcha Gonna Do”, perfect for fans of southern rock. The group certainly knows how to perform, with the bassist and guitarist dueling it out on stage, and the vocalists bringing the energy with clapping and stomping that got the audience on their feet.

As the Pat Travers Band came to the stage, the difference was abrupt but altogether entertaining. “We’re the Pat Travers Band and we’re gonna kick your ass” was a perfect tagline as the group launched into the drum-heavy guitar solo of “Boom Boom [Out Go the Lights].”

Their wailing guitar solos and heavy drum and bass-line definitely made me think of how my own parents react to my music taste. There's a universal enjoyment found in rocking out with a crowd and you can't help but smile and sing along to the contagious energy they had on stage during numbers such as “Black Pearl” and “Retro Rocket”.

Finally, the Atlanta Rhythm Section, arguably the highlight of the evening. The group has been a large part of the southern rock scene since the early '70s when they originally formed.

They played a selection of some of their greatest hits, and fan favorites “Champagne Jam” and “Spooky” got the crowd to their feet dancing and singing along. Classic Rock is classic for a reason, and The Atlanta Rhythm Section absolutely lived up to their Georgia Music Hall of Fame status.

St. Michaels soldiers dedicate themselves to supporting deployed soldiers in the U.S. Military. They benefit all branches and especially offer their support to those injured in the line of duty that live in Clay County and Northeast Florida. The Home-grown Kindness project is a new initiative for St. Michaels Soldiers that provides random and planned acts of kindness to local first responders, their families, and those that just need a little kindness that day.

Thrasher-Horne has always been involved with the community and this isn't the first benefit concert partnership they've been a part of. Thrasher Horne itself is a non-profit performing arts center that often spotlights local artists in their gallery, provides places for small concerts or events in their event halls, and offers opportunities for local bands and musicians.

Orange Park Medical Center earns 'A' Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade

For Clay Today

ORANGE PARK – HCA Healthcare's Orange Park Medical Center received an "A" Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade for fall 2021. This national distinction recognizes their achievements in protecting patients from harm and error while in the hospital.

The Leapfrog Group, an independent national watchdog organization, assigns a grade A-through-F to general hospitals across the country based on over 30 national performance measures reflecting errors, injuries, accidents and infections, as well as systems hospitals have in place to prevent harm.

"An 'A' Safety Grade is a tremendous achievement, of which this community should be extremely proud," said Leah Binder, president and CEO of The Leapfrog Group. "The leadership and hospital staff of both Orange Park Medical Center and Memorial Hospital should be proud of their unwavering commitment to prioritizing patients and their safety, especially during these trying times."

"Here at Memorial Hospital, we are very proud of being recognized with another Leapfrog 'A' Safety Grade rating this year," said Albert E. Holt, IV, MD, MBA, Chief Medical Officer at Memorial Hospital Jacksonville. "Our patients always come first and we are proud of our colleagues working hard to provide the best care for our patients each and every day," Dr. Holt said.

The Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade is the only hospital rating program based exclusively on hospital prevention of medical errors and harms to patients. The grading system is peer-reviewed, fully transparent and free to the public. Grades are updated twice annually, in the fall and spring.

"At Orange Park Medical Center, we recognize the importance of measuring and publicly sharing our quality performance," says Dr. Bradley Shumaker, Chief Medical Officer at Orange Park Medical Center. "I'm extremely proud of our team of dedicated physicians and staff that earned this grade."

To see the full grade details for both hospitals and to access patient tips for staying safe in the hospital, visit HospitalSafetyGrade.org.

Substitute teachers required to play a critical role in local education

Subs use lesson plans, curriculum to dispel babysitting connotation

By Kathleen Chambless
For Clay Today

CLAY COUNTY – Schools are facing a massive shortage, and this time it's their most important asset – their teachers.

Teachers call out. They have doctors' appointments, illnesses or things happening in their own personal lives. With the pandemic, there's another level of stress added on top of everything else that teachers must face. When a teacher is exposed to COVID-19, or suspects they might be sick, it's common protocol to stay out of class for a week. This gives them enough time to make sure that a covid test comes back negative.

That's where substitute teachers come in.

Substitute teachers are the liaison between teachers and the classroom when teachers cannot attend. There is a stereotype that substitutes don't care, and just put a movie on or let the students run wild.

Thankfully, this is completely outdated. Because of the changes in curriculum, there's no time for a free day.

Teachers, especially in lower grades like elementary and middle schools, often leave full lesson plans. When a substitute comes into class, they come in with no knowledge of the class. Substitutes have to adapt to a lesson plan before the students come into the class.

The school district uses a third-party resource to hire subs. But even with what seems like an endless supply of postings through the substitute program, there often are days when schools are scrambling to fill spots. The Clay County School Board has even had to rely on its own teachers to fill vacancies.

Teachers with an open planning period are often called into substitute in another teacher's class. Though they get paid for filling in for their co-worker, that means that they give up a valuable planning period which is often used to plan their own lessons or grade assignments. A pay bonus has incentivized substitutes who take on jobs at schools most in need of subs. However; even with all of that, many schools such as Bannerman, several elementary schools, and a few junior high schools, are desperate for substitute teachers to fill in.

The requirements to become a substitute teacher are thorough, but not unattainable

. An applicant needs to pass a background check into their criminal background and must complete an intensive course on classroom management, child safety, and teaching resources. The county requires all substitutes to have completed at least 60 credit hours from an accredited university, and pay increases based on the level of education held by the applicant.

Substitutes must be fingerprinted and must complete an orientation process with the branch office of the network, but after completing everything and submitting all paperwork, substitutes can start teaching as soon as their supervisor emails them their access codes to the scheduling site.

The benefits of substitute teaching are immeasurable. You allow students to continue learning when their teacher is away. You have a flexible schedule where you only have to work the days that you schedule for yourself. With the incentives and bonuses right now, it's a great time to help the school district, and ease the stress of some of the community's most important members.

If you are interested in becoming a substitute teacher, visit the Clay County School District website and look for instructional opportunities. The substitute teacher tab will provide you with all the requirements needed, and access to the third-party scheduling office to apply and schedule an interview.

Indians roll to first playoff win

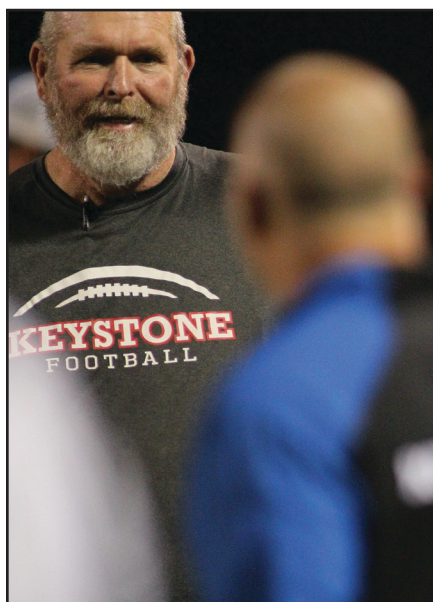

The Keystone Heights High football team earned their first-ever region playoff win Friday night with a 50-0 victory over Umatilla. The Indians advance to play unbeaten The Villages Charter (10-0) on Friday in their region semifinal.

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS - Utilizing the "Four Horsmen" plus one backfield lineup, the Keystone Heights High football team barreled to a 50-0 region 1-4A playoff win over a much-improved Umatilla High team to, first, win the first ever playoff game for 23 year coach Chuck Dickinson and his long-time assistant Lantz Lowery, and, second, advance to the region semifinals to face off against an unbeaten Villages Charter team on Friday.

"I would take the Gatorade bath in a heartbeat, but they got to coach Dickinson first," said Lowery, who coordinates the defensive effort for the Indians while being the state champion boys weightlifting coach that rosters most of the Indian

Stratton gets his first gold

St. Johns Country Day School senior cross country runner Matthew Stratton gets his Class 1A championship finish in Saturday's championship race in Tallahassee. Stratton had finished third and second in his previous two Class 1A races.

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

After a third and a second place finish and a slew of top five finishes this year against the best of Class 3A and 4A, St. Johns Country Day School senior cross country ace Matthew Stratton finally got his gold with a dominating performance at the Class 1A championship race on Saturday in Tallahassee.

"Finally is what we both said after I met up with him at the finish line," said Greg Stratton, coach at St. Johns and Matthew's dad. "He has been thinking about this day for more than just last year, but for all those year we just missed."

Stratton, who recently signed to run next fall at the University of Florida, noted that his post season runs; a district title and a region title; both in dominating fashion with low 15 minute-plus finish times, came at a peak time when his mind has been most relaxed.

"I went out there and my time at the mile was 4:41 and, in past years, I may have panicked, but today, I just went with it as the weather was perfect and I was feeling really great," said Stratton, who eventually cruised alone into the downhill finish area at the Appalachian Region Park finish area with a time of 15 minutes, 40.2 seconds to win by nearly 13 seconds over runnerup Jackson Dejesus of Circle Christian Academy and third place finisher Tristan McWilliam of Out-of-Door who came in as the third runner under 16 minutes. "I look behind me on the finish straightaway and saw I had the race and that is when I started to get emotional about finally winning this race."

After his opening mile salvo, Stratton kept his foot on the gas and just stretched the lead little by little.

"I figured now they have to come get me and I know I have a strong finishing kick," said Stratton. "The past two years, I've waited to kick the final mile and fell short, but this time I wanted to make sure."

St. Johns boys team had a second great finish in sophomore Graham Myers, who was 11th in 16:38.0, with the team finishing 15th in team points in the 31 team field.

In Class 3A, Ridgeview High's James Snipes, a senior, ended a sterling second year of cross country, that he admitted was only to get in shape for basketball last year, to take the top area finish with a 13th place finish just 19 seconds from a top five place in one of the tightest finish lines of the day.

Snipes took his usual first mile at hard pace then hung tough against some of the best runners in Florida to finish in 16:19.1 with the winner; Patrick Koon of Leon, at 15:23.8. The top five finishers were under 16; the top 54 under 17 minutes in an astounding race of inches.

Also in Class 3A, the Fleming Island High boys team took eighth in team points led by another great finish from senior Alex Bendig at 16:29.2 for 21st place with sophomore teammate John Keester IV just a hair behind at 16:33.7 for 24th. Fleming Island briefly sat in second place in team points as the top two runners of the field starting to filter in behind them, but number three Danny Sakowski finished at 17:00.8 as the front loaded field started to emerge.

Belen Jesuit Prep won the team title with 42 points with Fort Myers second at 132 and Sunlake third at 151. Locally, Ocala Vanguard and Ponte Vedra, whom Fleming Island beat last week for the region 1-3A title, were ahead of Fleming Island at sixth for Vanguard with 244, seventh with Ponte Vedra at 308 and Fleming Island eighth with 312 in a race of attrition for the pack positions at the finish. Leon was ninth despite Koon's first place individual finish.

The only other non-south Florida team was Matanzas as 32nd.

In the girls Class 3A race, Fleming Island finished 13th with Ponte Vedra winning with the Golden Eagles led by sophomore Allie Knotts' 49th place finish in 20:13.7. Behind Knotts were teammates Katelyn Thomposon, a junior, in 63rd at 20:31.4, and freshman Ava Hendrix at 68th in 20:35.6.

Top runner was sizzling fast repeat champion Caroline Wells of Winter Springs in 16:56.6. Wells is headed to run next fall at Stanford University and won by more than a minute over Ashley Fitzgerald of American Heritage at 18:13.2.

Top area finisher was Ponte Vedra freshman Sofia Bushkell, the region 1-3A champion, in fifth at 18:34.9. Ocala Vanguard freshman Pippa Worden was fourth as two sophomores and two freshman were in the top five behind Wells. St. Augustine senior Reilly Barber finished 11th to finish a career that spanned four years and visited Clay County races numerous times. Ponte Vedra senior Ellie Moritz, niece for former Fleming Island girls coach and Clay High track state champion Karen Moritz, was 15th in 19:17.1.

In Class 4A, Nease High senior Rheinhardt Harrison won his fourth state title with at 15:03.6 effort. Harrison is slated to run at the storied University of Oregon program next year after setting numerous Florida and USA high school records in both cross country and track. Viera won the boys title with a 104-104 tie with Creekside for the top five finishers and the win going to the sixth runner finish; 80 for Viera, 97th for Creekside, in a unique cross country overtime type finish. Bartram Trail was third.

Also from the area in Class 4A, Chiles as sixth, Nease seventh and Buchholz eighth.

For the girls Class 4A, Buchholz won their second state title in school history with lead runner Katie Drummong getting fifth overall, but the Lady Bobcats putting three runners in the top 20 with runner Newsome's third runner at 26th. Lakewood Ranch was third. Penelope Sosa, senior at Miami Coral Park, won the individual title in a sprint away from Amber Schulz of Timber Creek to win in 18:12.4. Schulz was 18:27.3.

In Class 1A, Cambridge Christian won the girls title over Circle Christian and Oak Hall. Cambridge had the top three finishers of the race with the fourth in at sixth place to score an astounding 26 points.

In Class 1A boys, Indian Rocks Christian was top team with 106 points ahead of Circle Christian and Oak Hall.

In Class 2A, Bolles pulled the double title phenomenon with the boys and girls both winning team trophies; boys over Satellite 67-75 with Berkeley Prep third at 76, girls over St. Brendan 56-161 with junior Jillian Candelino posting a 17:53.2 individual title. In the boys 2A race, Trinity Prep's Nicholas Carter held off Bolles' junior Aidan Ryan, 15:24.2 to 15:35.1, for the individual title.

McDade comes home with gold

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

In one of the closest races of the day, a blink on an eye, according to Fleming Island High swim coach Jordan Bright, sophomore freestyle sprinter Maryn McDade utilized a sterling flip turn and push off to gain the necessary space to bring home a swim gold and silver medal as Fleming Island competed in the Class 3A swimming championships Saturday in Stuart.

"Maryn and Ekk (Isabella Ekk, a sophomore at Tallahassee Chiles) were literally stroke for stroke," said Bright, after watching McDade battle with Ekk and Naples junior Havana Layton in the 100 freestyle. "Any miniscule Ekk might have gained was quickly erased by Maryn's flip turn; .12 of a second is literally impossible to see by the naked eye. It was a great race."

In the 100 free, McDade, Ekk and Layton opened the first 50 with splits of 24.74, 24.36 and 24.88 giving Ekk a .38 second edge on McDade; .52 on Layton, at the wall of the second turn; at 50 meters.

In the second 50, Layton ripped a 26.59. McDade went 26.73 and Ekk went Christine Johnson has been top Golden Eagle swimmer for four years with two relay golds.

26.99 with both Layton and McDade gaining on Ekk, but not closing the gap. McDade and Layton would eventually be ruled a tie with Ekk winning the event by Bright's .12 calculation.

Fourth place with the third best time was Gisella Wright of Countryside at 51.75.

Earlier in the meet's finals rounds, McDade blasted the field with a 23.58 gold medal finish over Leigha Oconnor of East Ridge High in a distant 23.92 who held off Gisella Wright's 23.94 for third. Ekk was eliminated via a false start in the 50.

Fleming Island High sophomore freestyle sprinter Maryn McDade got a gold and silver at the Class 3A championship meet; gold in the 50 free, silver in the 100 free.

For Bright, McDade's gold was a welcomed affirmation of his prowess at cultivating speed on his team, but his history has been with four fast relay members for his gold medals. Fleming Island has won gold in the girls 200 medley relay the past two years with just senior Christine Johnson the final member of those teams.

"Johnson finished strong for her senior year even though she didn't get the realy gold, she got a top eight in the 100 butterfly and the 200 individual medley," said Bright. "Though the relay gold streak is halted, with McDade only a sophomore, I got two more years to rebuild."

The Fleming Island girls 200 medley relay failed to make the championship finals, but the 400 free relay; Karen Tang, McDade, Johnson and junior Kelsey Bright, finished seventh to earn a medal. The 200 free relay; McDade, Bright, Taylor Peck and Johnson finished 13th.

"We moved Christine and Maryn out of the medley relays to free them up to be 100 percent for their individual swims," said Bright. "Next year's relay success will obviously be centered around Maryn and she will need help from senior Karen Tang

Golden Eagles fumble away playoff hopes

GAINESVILLE - Starting with a first quarter punt muff on their own one yard line, the Fleming Island High football team could only get downfield twice in 48 minutes as the Buchholz Bobcats stuck a 35-7 region 1-7A loss on the Golden Eagles Thursday night at Citizens Field.

“Young guys making young mistakes and us as coaches not preparing them to make decisions,” said Fleming Island coach Damenyum Springs. “That one yard punt fumble hit us hard and we went downhill from there.”

Buchholz, now 10-1 and moving into the region semifinals against University High, a winner over Fletcher, had its way with the Eagles secondary with quarter Creed Whittemore slicing up the field with quick slants and skinny posts that created scoring time and time again.

For Fleming Island, with two key offensive linemen out for illness and a shuffled deck in the front five that included freshman Braden Cunningham stepping up to play center, freshman quarterback Cibastian Broughton kept rising from the turf after bone-chilling sacks and tackles for loss to keep the Golden Eagles upright. Broughton’s best play was a 37 yard scamper in the first half that saw him get missed after falling out of bounds, but with no flag for obvious late hit.

“We saw some good things from our young guys tonight, especially Cibastian who got beat up all night,” said Springs. “

The snowball effect amped up for the Eagles with a 40 yard punt return and a 27 yard scoring pass for the Bobcats to put the score at 14-0.

The Bobcats got a second passing score on a fourth and seven pass play from 37 yards out that landed in the Eagle end zone. Fleming Island did have outstanding defensive play from secondary corner Kaylib Singleton on a bomb from Whittemore to 6’-2” wide out Adrian Sermons that Singleton got his hands on at the apex of his defensive leap that Sermons swiped to put the Bobcats in the Eagle red zone. Singleton earlier in the first quarter knocked down a bomb attempt to force the Bobcat punt that led to the punt muff and score at just 9:50 of the first quarter.

Linebacker Jhace Edwards had his hands on a Bobcat quick slant play that could have been returned for a score, but could not capture the pass. Up front on defense, sophomore defensive end Joey Couch and freshman defensive tackle Khalil Matthews kept the pressure on Whittemore, but the quick-thinking quarterback was able to sneak away and continue to make plays.

Sophomore kick returner Cartavion Valentine did excite the Eagle fans with a 45 yard kickoff return to midfield in the second half. A 12 yard pass play put the Bobcats up 35-0 at the half with Springs able to opt to a running clock. In the second half, with Buchholz running hard to end the game quickly, Fleming Island opened the offense with some pass plays, including a third quarter 45 yard Broughton to Caleb Jones bomb to the Bobcat 35. Broughton almost hit Jones a second time on a go route, but just barely overthrew the fleet-footed wideout on the last play of the game. Near the end of the fourth quarter, the Eagles forced a Bobcat punt from near the Bobcat 22 and the entire Eagles’ sideline, including befuddled defensive coach Sean Coultis, was yelling “Go get it.”

With that, the Eagles bombarded the punt into the end zone where Edwards scooped it up for the Eagles lone score of the night.

“We just wanted to make a play to end the game,” said Edwards. “We got the go get it and we just went after it and got lucky.”

STUART - Oakleaf High got the best of times from their two state meet athletes; seniors Logan Myers and Kylie Loving both coming home with best efforts to end their careers at the Class 4A championship meet.

Loving, a stalwart for coach Kate Swartz for four years, finished 11th at the 100 breaststroke with a 1:06.01, but had set the record in the prelims with a 1:05.80 that got her 10th after prelims. Loving entered the meet with a seed time of 1:06.32. Loving's split broke her own school record.

For Myers, in the 500 freestyle, entered with a 4:49.63 split and finished his prelims in 18th place in 4:45.14 to set a new school record and personal best. Myers also swam the 200 individual medley and finished 17th in prelims with a 1:56.82 to break a record set in 2010 by Taylor Treat.

Johnson ends her swim days at Fleming Island with two gold medals from the two past 200 medley relays, plus a sixth place finish in the 100 butterfly and a 17th place in the 200 individual medley.

“Christine finished strong for her senior year even though she didn’t get the relay gold,” said Bright. “She has had so many years at these high stakes meets. She leaves us as one of the top five female swimmers in school history; a dependable, dynamic swimmer who showed her versatility.”

In the 100 breaststroke, Julia Sheffler finished 17th.

For the women team scores, Ponte Vedra won the team title over Chiles; both in Fleming Island’s region 1-3A lineup with St. Petersburg High third; 245-203-165. Fleming Island was 12th at 79.5.

For the boys, Alec Bilyeu stole the show for Fleming Island with a fourth in the 50 free in 21.69 with winner Andrew Billitto of Seminole winning in 20.56.

Bilyeu also finished eighth in the 100 butterfly in 52.52 with Mitchell Ledford of Sebring winning at 46.86 with Billitto second in 47.55; both All America times.

Orange Park seniors Ryan Pritchard and Jose Medina also traveled to Stuart with Medina 17th in the 200 free and 18th in the 500 free. Pritchard was 12th in the 100 breaststroke and the Orange Park 200 free relay mens team; Medina, Sebastian Lopez, Kaden Danninger and Pritchard, finished 12th.

Chiles won the mens tiles over Jesuit and Countryside, 159-239-162. Fleming Island was 26th.

football players. "It's been a long time coming."

For Dickinson, who nimbly avoided most of the ice shower with some fancy footwork, one team has been the main culprit of his playoff bad luck.

"We used to get Bolles alot in our first game over the years, so this was a well-deserved win for the seniors," said Dickinson. "We have to focus on a very good Villages team first before thinking of the next guys which could also be Cocoa, one of the nation's top program and South Sumter. It doesn't get easier for sure."

In the 4A state bracket, Keystone Heights (9-1, 20th in 4A) will travel to The Villages (10-0, 6th in 4A), who advanced on a BYE as the second seed, while Cocoa (8-1, top ranked in 4A), the top seed will host South Sumter (7-4, 19th in 4A), the fourth seed. South Sumter beat Hernando 48-14 in their region opener.

Bolles (6-2, 4th in 4A) in region 1-4A, advanced with a BYE and will host Gadsden County (3-6, 8th in 4A), a 16-14 winner over Andrew Jackson. In the opposite semifinal in region 1-4A, fourth-seed Baldwin (7-3), a 28-14 winner over Marianna, will travel to South Walton Beach (9-1, 10th in 4A), the top seed.

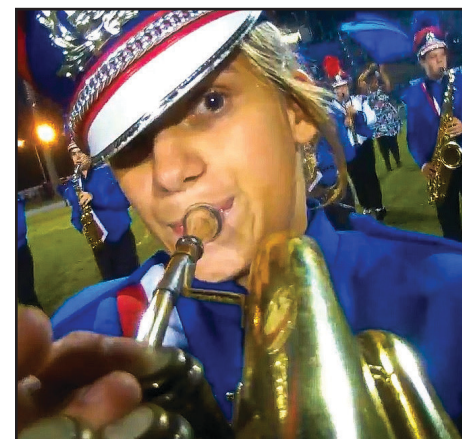

The Villages are led by senior quarterback Brandon Kennard (No. 3) with 1392 pass yards and 19 touchdowns with just one interception. The run game is led by senior Ed Williams (No. 26) with 1182 yards in eight games 13 touchdowns. Top receiver is sophomore Q Kennedy (No. 1) with 25 catches and four touchdowns. Senior Tyler Wonus (No. 10) has six touchdown catches on just 12 passes.

Against Umatilla, Keystone Heights opened the game by recovering a bloopier kick on the opening kickoff from Jeremy Miller to put the vaunted Indians offense at the Umatilla 32. A three yard run from Tyler Jenkins, who took first carry 11 yards, got the Indians quickly on the scoreboard with Dalton Hollingsworth barreling for two; 8-0. Jenkins was top rusher for the Indians with 145 yards on 14 carries. Logan Williams had 96 yards; one a 43 yard scoring run, with Kade Sanders finishing with 91 yards.

in the backfield got the offense back on the field with a fourth down stop at midfield, but Keystone Heights' running back Kade Sanders got stripped on his first carry to give Umatilla the ball right back.

"We had six fumbles in the last two weeks with just one for the entire nine game season," said Dickinson. "We can't do that next week and further against the teams we will be playing."

After a defensive stand, Umatilla punted to Hollingsworth who caught the ball on the run near the Indian 30 and sprinted past two tacklers to the end zone before a penalty flag emerged to bring the effort back. Keystone Heights regrouped with Jenkins, going hurdle-mode on one tackler, blasting to the Umatilla 45 before Sanders went behind tackle Mason Dicks to rip a run through three tackles before stepping out of bounds at the eight yard line. Logan Williams would scamper for the score with Sanders not making the two-point plunge; 14-0 at 4:24 in the first quarter.

Dickinson concurred that his x-trap play with quarterback Connor Guy faking a dive one way to two crossing backs and handing off to the second back on the cross, was a play that showed good success against Umatilla.

"We have that in our package and teams know what we do; come right at you," said Dickinson. "With that fake and handoff, the defense has to guess who has the ball with Connor's back to the line of scrimmage. It gives the defense a little hesitation off the snap to just crash the line on our off-tackle plays."

After a couple stops at midfield, Jenkins ripped down the Keystone Heights sideline from 50 yards out for a score to end the first quarter at 20-0. The two point attempt failed.

"We can't leave those two point conversions off the scoreboard if we get into close games," said Dickinson. "We won't be able to give up four, six points against the next bunch of teams."

Up 20-0, Keystone Heights ate some clock with a long drive that started at their own 28 and ended with Sanders rifling in for a score to 26-0 at 5:28 to the half. Sanders added the two pointer; 28-0.

Sanders rolled in on the next series to put Keystone Heights up 34-0 a minute before halftime.

Moncrief would capture a 15 yard sack to end Umatilla's effort to score to force a fourth down punt, but Umatilla, calling two times in the final eight seconds, executed a fake punt to gain a first down at midfield.

In the third quarter, the fourth of the Four Horsemen; senior Logan Williams, scampered 46 yards to paydirt to put the Indians up 40-0. Guy hit Moncrief with the two point pass; 42-0 with 10 minutes left in the third. Jackson Williams, scored on a three yard rush to end the game; 50-0 with Jeremy Miller carrying in the two-pointer.

Middleburg High junior golfer Chase Carroll and St. Johns Country Day School freshman golfer Addy Vogt both came home with less than par golf outings at the Class 2A and Class 1A golf championships held last week at the Mission Inn Resort & Club in Hower-in-the-Hills.

Vogt, a first timer as a freshman, finished 79th with a two round total of 171 with rounds of 88 and 83 on the rugged state course at Mission Inn. Vogt was 16 over par in her first round with six pars for the day. In round two, Vogt improved to an 83 for the final round with seven pars and one birdie.

For Carroll, who returned to his third state tournament, the first round saw the Bronco in sixth place at the finish with a four over par 76 with an opening double bogie followed by six of seven pars and a final nine that saw him crush for four birdies.

Round two, though, proved more treacherous as Carroll faltered again on hole one with a triple bogie that added three strokes to his score. The rest of the front nine was followed by five pars but a disastrous eight on a par three eighth hole. The back nine proved more friendly with five pars and a birdie on the final hole to finish at 13 over for the day and a 161 for the weekend.

St. Johns Country Day School freshman Addy Vogt got some championship experience under her belt with first trip to Class 1A tournament at Mission Inn Resort in Hower-in-the-Hills.
